

Our Commitment to You during the COVID-19 outbreak, and Always

Dear Patients,

As a valued patient of Virginia Heart, we appreciate the trust you place in us and our clinical team to provide you the best cardiovascular care possible.

In the current environment, it is important for all of us to take the necessary precautions to ensure our health. That's why I want to personally update you on the situation with COVID-19 and the necessary steps we are taking as an organization to ensure your health and safety during your visits to our practice.

Specific to the virus, we are following the World Health Organization (WHO) and the Center for Disease Control (CDC) for updates and directives. We have strong relationships in place at local hospitals to make sure our policies and procedures meet or exceed their guidelines along with those at WHO and CDC.

The cleanliness and sterilization of our office is of the utmost importance to us with or without the threat of a virus. All of our staff members have been trained and are currently following CDC guidelines to sanitize the office before and after each patient.

Please be advised that if you are experiencing any upper respiratory symptoms to include a fever or cough and have travelled internationally, or have been in contact with someone who has travelled internationally we respectfully ask you to reschedule your appointment. In general, even without other symptoms, if you have a fever for any reason, please do not come to the office, call us.

Thank you for your continued trust in Virginia Heart to provide you with the very best heart care.

In Good Health,

Warren S. Levy, MD, FACC
